The Artesian: Code Enforcement Special Issue

The City recently released the winter issue of The Artesian – the City’s quarterly newsletter. In this issue residents will find information that explains what code enforcement is and how the City’s code enforcement process works, why code enforcement is necessary to preserve and improve the quality of life of Artesia residents, as well as examples of common code violations and suggestions on how to cure them. This issue also provides a list of important phone numbers for residents to keep handy for activity that may extend beyond the jurisdiction of Code Enforcement.

The Artesian also has exciting news on all that has been happening throughout the City, as well as upcoming events such as recreation activities and classes that begin soon.
